JULY 2016

"Something Different"

I have a headache, so it's a good time for me to write this article for the July newsletter. The thought of July gives me a headache. I'll explain in a bit, so read on....

In II Corinthians 4:7 Paul writes, "But we have this treasure in jars of clay to show that this all-surpassing power is from God and not from us." This is one of my favorite passages. The treasure refers to the gospel. During that period it was not uncommon for persons to hide a treasure in clay jars, which had little value or beauty, and did not draw attention to the container or potential content. Today we might think of a worn out, beat up old purse as a better place to hide a large sum of money than a high end designer purse. Paul is declaring that the treasure of the gospel is found in worn out, beat up old purses. Guess who the purse is? Well, Paul said it was himself. But I'm in that same camp — pretty frail and unworthy. My guess is that most of you would have that same self-assessment.

But the amazing message of Paul is that the treasure of the gospel is found in people like me and you. We are the living expressions of the work of God in us and through us.

July is a month for travel and vacations. As you hit the road I want to encourage you to not neglect worship. Find a church in your travels and worship wherever you're at. And share your experience with one of the members of the pastoral team; we love to hear what's happening in other worship sites.

July at Mentor UMC is being tagged, "Something Different." During our July worship we'll experience some treasures. On July 3rd we'll get a report from the Youth Service Project (YSP) from their week-long trip to Michigan. And on July 17th we'll hear from the Middle School Mission Week on their week-long engagement in local missions. These are two great treasures in the life of the congregation.

Now about my "headache", or perhaps better said, my "headaches." On July 10th and July 24th we're going to have "Treasure Hunt" Sundays where you will be asked to bring some mementos of summer activities to be placed in box. 1-3 items will be removed and on the spot, right there, a sermon will be improvised. Do you understand my headache? Well, if the gospel can be found in jars of clay, I guess we can find the gospel in your treasures stuck in a box!

We'll wrap up the month on July 31st with Skit Sunday. The message will be found in the treasures of short dramas.

July will be "Something Different" for sure. If you're away, come back with stories of treasures found in worship at other places. And when you're around, discover the treasures in our worship together.

I think I'll head to the store and stock up on Aleve.

TUESDAY MORNING SUMMER BOOK DISCUSSIONS

Tuesday, July 19th

The Underground Girls of Kabul: In Search of a Hidden Resistance in Afghanistan

by Jenny Nordberg

In Afghanistan, a culture ruled almost entirely by men, the birth of a son is cause for celebration and the arrival of a daughter is often mourned as misfortune. A bacha posh (literally translated from Dari as "dressed up like a boy") is a third kind of child — a girl temporarily raised as a boy and presented as such to the outside world. Jenny Nordberg, the reporter who broke the story of this phenomenon for the New York Times, constructs a powerful and moving account of those secretly living on the other side of a deeply segregated society where women have almost no rights and little freedom.

Tuesday, August 16th

Fear of the Other: No Fear in Love by William H. Willimon

Tolerate one another. Wait. Isn't that supposed to be love one another? It's one thing to genuinely love people who are more or less the same as we are, but what about those who are not only strangers, but people who live completely different lives? Reliable spiritual guide Will Willimon invites you to look more closely at the gospel's command to love — because to genuinely love those considered to be "Other," or outside the mainstream Christian culture, may be the hardest thing for people of faith to do.

The Summer Book Discussions will be held in the Adams Parlor at 10:00 a.m. Please contact Carole Ring at 255-7213 or umw@mentorumc.org if you have questions regarding these book discussions. All are welcome to join us!

THROUGH THE YEARS

Susanna Wesley, the mother of John Wesley, plays a significant role in the history of Methodism. She was born Susanna Annesley, the last of 25 children born to Rev. Dr. Samuel and Mary Annesley. The family lived in rather poor conditions largely due to the fact that Susanna's father lost his preaching positions with the Church of England over his "dissenting" position on using the Book of Common Prayer.

When Susanna was 13, she stopped attending her father's church and joined the official Church of England. She met Rev. Samuel Wesley and they were married when she was 19. Samuel and Susanna had 19 children, nine of whom died as infants. Rev. Samuel Wesley's father had also been a dissenter, but like Susanna, he joined the official church. Due to his Church of England membership he was eligible to attend Oxford University. The Wesley's served several parishes before Samuel took a parish in Epworth. Samuel lacked business acumen and the family was often in financial difficulty. This caused the need for him to travel to find additional work to help pay the family's debts.

John Wesley was born in 1703, their fifteenth child. The family experienced many challenges because some parishioners opposed Samuel as pastor. While he was away in 1709, the church rectory, under questionable circumstances, caught fire. Susanna, pregnant with their last child, rushed the children out of the house. One child was left in the burning home, six year old John. One neighbor climbed on the back of another man and told John to jump, which he did to safety.

Susanna was a strong believer in education for all her children. The Wesley children studied for six hours a day and learned Latin and Greek. They were all considered bright and assertive. Susanna was disappointed in the pastor who filled in for her husband when he was away. She decided to conduct her own Sunday afternoon family services. Soon others attended her service and it's attendance exceeded the regular service. Susanna raised her children in a very strict way. She didn't spare the rod but did believe in no punishment if a child confessed to their wrong doing. Due to her great influence, John Wesley encouraged women to take many leadership roles in the Methodist Episcopal church, though they were not allowed to be ordained ministers. This was a far greater role for women than other church denominations.

I would like to thank Rev. Kurt Landerholm for providing the idea and much of the information regarding Susanna Wesley.
